

A good language learner at Notley High school...

... participates and takes some risks!

... listens to the person talking and shows respect.

... regularly reviews and revises past work.

... keeps a neat and organised book which they use as a reference

...recognises that making mistakes is part of learning

...has fun with sounding as authentic as possible

...does NOT worry about understanding every word

...completes homework and extension tasks to the best of their ability

...is engaged in learning and is a role model

...understands that, although it is the teacher's job to teach, only they can learn!
